Know Your Address

Your building and apartment numbers and your mailing address are different, and you will need to know them all for different things.

Your mailing address does not include the building number. It only includes the street address and the apartment number. Use your mailing address for sending and receiving mail or packages. For example, it would look like: 435 Gooding Way, Apt #456, Albany, CA 94706.

Your building and apartment numbers are used internally within the Village Work Order Center for requesting or processing service numbers. They are different, and you will need to include the building number. It only includes the street address and the apartment number. Use your building and apartment numbers for living in the Village, for example, it would look like: Bldg 123, Apt 456.
