English-in-Action (EIA) is part of a nationwide program in which volunteers meet with UC Berkeley international students, visiting scholars, and their partners, on an one-to-one basis or in a small groups*, to increase participants’ competency in the English language and to give both parties an opportunity to learn about each other’s culture.

*Due to COVID19, all of our meetings have been held online. Volunteers and partners can, however, decide on how to meet abiding by the COVID-19 precaution recommended by CDC.
